Is Noteworthy for

Its systematic and impartial treatment of the various sciences as parts of a composite whole.

Its application of each topic to the every-day
life of the pupil.

Its emphasis upon independent scientific thinking, rather than upon memory work.

Its clear and simple style, easily performed
experiments, and helpful, practical exercises.

General Science supplies a valuable foundation for more advanced study of science, while providing the student who takes no other science work, or who leaves school early, with a practical working knowledge of the world
about him.

Appearance of the Appeal

MANY expert advertising men will not accept Sales Letter accounts unless the firm's Letter
Head has been correctly designed and printed.
The Sales Letter never knocks at a business man's office, nor waits outside for admittance. With this advantage the printed salesman should present a first blush appearance in keeping with its message. A poorly planned and printed Letter Head will rob a good Sales Letter of 50 per cent of its pulling power.

Appearance, plus quality, plus service, is wrapped with every package of printing that bears the little "Seaman" symbol. Correspondence invited.

Hackeling Tellurian

No. 49-90

Invented by the Late Dr. Herman A. Hackeling

THE object of the Hackeling Tellurian is to provide the student and teacher of Physical Geography or Astronomy with a working model which will demonstrate the axial rotations of the Earth and Moon, their combined revolution about the Sun, and the important phenomena which result from these motions.

APPROVED BY NEW YORK CITY BOARD OF SUPERINTENDENTS

Patent No. 858,977, Issued July 2, 1907

THE sun is represented by the large central, gilded sphere about which the earth-moon system can rotate by means of the horizontal arm close to the base. The wire which acts as rotation axis of the earth is bent to the proper angle from the vertical ( $23^{\circ}.5$ ) and is inserted into a slot at the top of the rod supporting the earth. The moon can be moved up and down upon, and independently rotated about this rod. The base shows the position of the earth corresponding to the different months and seasons of the year. The positions of the earth at the time of the vernal and autumnal equinoxes and the summer and winter solstices are also given. The outside ring of numbers gives the angular deviation of any position of the earth from the autumnal equinox or the apparent deviation of the sun from the vernal equinox.

For compactness in transportation and storage, the entire system of globes can be rotated into a horizontal position by simply loosening the thumb-nut at the center of the base.
